Do you Recognize these Scenes from Around Ohio?

Hello, Everyone!

Hope you're all doing well. As summer winds down, I'm sad to see it go, but it's also an exciting time... kids are back in school, all the fall sports have started, the leaves are starting to turn as the days and nights get cooler, canning season is slowing down, and... it's Open House Season!

Check out all the shows and events listed on page 3, and be sure to take note of the special notices in the ads throughout this issue. Many of them have scheduled open houses and special events. All the shops are decorated with their new fall merchandise and ready for your visits!

This issue our Secret Shopper visited Country Road Primitives just outside of Berlin. Such a awesome store! You can read about her visit on page 10 and check Country Road Primitives ad on page 10 also. If you have a shop you'd like our Secret Shopper to visit, please let me know and I'll suggest she add it to her list.

When you visit any of our advertising shops, be sure to tell them you saw their ad in the Country Register - without them, this paper would not be possible.

Happy Fall Y'All! (I look forward all year to saying that!)

The Country Register Story

The Country Register began in Arizona in the fall of 1988 to provide effective and affordable advertising for shops, shows and other experiences enjoyed by a kindred of readership. Since then, the paper has spread to many other areas, all of which are listed below. Look for the paper in your travels. To receive a sample paper from another area, mail $3 in the USA or $4 in Canada to that area's editor. Advertising rates area available upon request. The Country Register is available at the shops that advertise and often at other unique locations. We hope you enjoy this bi-monthly publication and let the advertisers know. For additional information, visit www.countryregister.com.

ABOUT THE CoverArtist

Nicole DeCamp

Nicole DeCamp grew up in a house full of her parent's creativity. Beds were warmed by the handmade quilts made by her mother and items such as furniture and stained glass made by her father. Someone was always creating. Nicole started as an artist at the age of 5, when her father sat her in a chair at their family-owned restaurant and allowed her to sell her work to the customers for ten cents. Her elementary school friends would also pay her a small fee to draw pictures for them while on the playground during recess. It was during that time that Nicole knew what she wanted to do with her life...make her living by creating art and have her own business.

She graduated from Indiana University, where she earned a bachelors degree in graphic design and started her career as a graphic designer in the advertising industry. She spent 7 years creating websites and print related materials for large, nationally recognized clients but as an experienced artist as well, she missed drawing and painting.

As a result, Nicole transitioned and received her masters degree in Drawing and then spent 13 years designing and illustrating products for an international party supply retailer while starting her art licensing journey as a side business. In 2017 the talent, confidence and experience she developed there allowed her to branch out into having her own full time freelance design and art licensing business, ND Art and Design. She has created art for a wide range of retail products including decorative gift boxes, partyware, ceramics, fabrics and garden flags and much more.

Her work has also been featured on television and published in magazines including Food Network, People, Party and Paper, Total Licensing and Giftware News to name a few.

To view Nicole's art prints, go to www.PennyLaneFineArt.com or call Penny Lane Fine Art at 800-273-5263 for more information.

Just Imagine if we Lived Simply, had Big Dreams, shared our Love, was Grateful for everything, and Laughed alot ~

How would we experience our world today?

This question is worth some time and contemplation.

The definition of contemplation is inspiring ~ concentration on spiritual things as a form of private devotion ~ an act of considering with attention ~ the act of regarding steadily.

Contemplation about anything is pretty rare today. When was the last time you spent a considerable amount of time thinking about anything? We live in a fast pace world and we often want tasks or decisions to be resolved even faster.

GIRLFRIEND WISDOM

Find a comfy place and simply "contemplate" on one thing of your choice.
 It might be a challenge ~ be patient with yourself ~ Give yourself some Grace!

Joy & Blessings,

Jody

Country Register Recipe

Apple Pie Cinnamon Rolls

2 cans refrigerated cinnamon rolls
 1 can apple pie filling
 1/2 c. chopped walnuts

Preheat oven to 375°

Cut the cinnamon rolls into quarters. Set the icing aside. Place rolls into a greased 9x13 baking dish. Add the apple pie filling and walnuts. Stir just until blended, being careful not to mash the rolls.

Bake in for 25 minutes. After cooling slightly, spread the icing on top and serve.

Oh Those Colors!

Fall is a beautiful time of year in Ohio! Do you know why the leaves change color?

During daylight tree leaves produce chlorophyll, a pigment which colors the leaves green. As the days shorten, the production of chlorophyll slows and finally stops. The influence and dominance of the green diminishes and the yellow pigments, which were present in the leaves all along, become more visible. The various shades of red leaves appear also, but these colors are a response to a combination of temperature and reduced light.

Below is a list of fall colors you may see in Ohio forests and woodlands.

YELLOW - burr oak, white oak, cottonwood, aspen, silver maple, hickory and sassafras

GOLD - tulip tree, ironwood

ORANGE - sugar maple

SCARLET - red oak, black gum, sweet gum, scarlet oak, blue beech and poison ivy

BROWN - burr oak, swamp white oak, persimmon and catalpa

RED - red maple, dogwood and sassafras

RED-BROWN - black cherry

From the Journal of the Country Register Secret Shopper!

Autumn Greetings Country Register Friends
It's hard to believe it's fall... already!!
But fall is the perfect time to go shopping!

I've been anticipating a trip to Amish Country, in particular Country Road Primitives just ten minutes outside of Berlin. So I recently headed out to do just that. When you turn off the highway into the driveway you're greeted by a beautiful Amish homestead, which is also the home to the Country Road Primitives shop.

This shop is awesome! It's filled with beautifully handmade furniture, from shelves to wonderful cupboards and tables... all Amish made. If they don't have the exact color or size you're looking for, they would be happy to make it as a special order for you. The shop also offers a line of fabrics and lots of home accessories.

A great country trip... be sure to add it to your fall shopping list!

Country Road Primitives is located at 7044 County Road 201, Millersburg, Ohio, 44654. Phone: 330674-4014. The shop hours are Monday through Saturday, 9am to 5pm. (check their ad above)

Until next time friends, happy shopping! Enjoy the beautiful fall Ohio weather and all the colorful fall scenery.

Become Inspired

by Annice Bradley Rockwell

Bringing in the Harvest -

As the daylight hours slowly begin to shorten, we begin to shift our thinking toward preparing for the season to come. Our vegetable gardens are likely producing plenty at this point in the year, so taking our gathering baskets out to the raised beds is a country task that brings great reward. Our beans can be harvested to accompany a wonderful homemade meal, or they can be strung by hand and hung over the hearth to dry as a handmade garland to be enjoyed all year. Our heirloom tomatoes can be harvested right off the vine to make a perfect summer sandwich with some toasted homemade bread, creamy mayonnaise and salt and pepper. The abundance of our yield can also be canned to line our buttery shelves with the blessings of our harvest to be enjoyed all year long.

Our herb gardens can also be a huge source of happiness as we plan a morning out in the sun clipping and binding bundles of fragrant herbs to be hung inside to dry. They can be used for enhancing our fall meals or to brighten one of our country displays. Even an afternoon spent clipping wild blooms such as the bright mustard tansy, yellow goldenrod or the purple Joe Pye weed can provide us with plenty of natural elements to enjoy in the beautiful season of fall.

The Warmth of Home - The spectacular sunlight of September is truly a special gift. Although more fleeting than the sultry sun of summer, the beautiful days of early fall are to be enjoyed. Paired with the daytime beauty are evenings characterized by a crisp coolness. Nights come more quickly now, so our home's ambiance stands out as being even more welcoming and warm. Taking time to create warmth in our decorating is time well-spent.

Early lighting such as a punched tin hanging lantern or a mirrored scone casts an inviting glow to warm the corner of a colonial keeping room. An antique floor lamp with a deep red-checked shade can enliven a favorite reading spot for a cool fall evening. And candles such as Pumpkin Butter or Colonial Apple Butter can be used as part of a harvest centerpiece where both its subtle flicker and captivating scent enhance the mood of the room.

Gorgeous large wooden trays or boxes in early surface like red or mustard can be enjoyed as a focal point for fall. Filled with part of our abundant harvest, it becomes a striking natural element that takes center stage.

Simple Country Joys - Planning a day to surround yourself with the full blessings of fall is a way to connect with friends and make memories to cherish. Wrapping a schedule around a festive fall event can be rewarding and fun. Fall festivals that include local farms and creative artisans can be enjoyed alongside a trip to our favorite antiques shops that might be hosting an outdoor show filled with great antiques, unique food trucks and decorative elements fresh-from-market to enhance our home displays.

This fall, savor the transition to those cooler, spectacular autumn days. Harvest the bounty of your gardening efforts and delight in the simple country joy of creating an ambiance that truly welcomes you home.

From Sketch to Stitch: How the Ashli Quilt Came to Life

By Kathryn LeBlanc

People often ask where quilt ideas come from. Sometimes it's a vintage quilt, a beautiful fabric collection, or a traditional block. Other times, it's something far less expected.

In this case...an acrylic lipstick organizer.

One morning, my friend Ashli from Quilt2EndALZ.org sent me a photo and asked, "How would you turn this lipstick case into a quilt block?"

My response? "Challenge accepted."

I started studying the organizer, focusing on its angles and repeating shapes rather than its purpose. Before long,

I was sketching ideas in EQ8 (Electric Quilt 8), where those clear acrylic compartments evolved into rows of colored squares set on point, and connected by sashing & corner stones, to create a striking lattice design.

One idea led to another, and before I knew it, an entirely new quilt had emerged.

With Ashli's blessing—and because she inspired the challenge—it was only fitting to name the finished pattern Ashli.

One of the things I love most about quilt design is that inspiration can come from almost anywhere: a tile floor, a garden gate, the shadow cast by a staircase—or, in this case, a lipstick organizer. As quilt designers, we learn to look beyond what an object is and instead see the shapes, lines, and patterns hidden within it.

The next time something catches your eye, take a second look. You never know—it just might become your next creative project.

These photos show the journey from: the original lipstick organizer, to the digital EQ8 design, to the finished Ashli quilt. The link to the printed quilt pattern is here: <https://authorkathrynmykel.com/store/ashli-printed-pattern/>

White Pizza with Chicken and Spinach

2 T. minced roasted garlic
8 oz boneless skinless chicken breasts
4 c. chopped spinach
Pinch, crushed red pepper flakes (optional)
1 c. ricotta cheese
1 1/2 tsp. dried thyme
1/4 c. yellow cornmeal
1/4 tsp. dried oregano
1 can refrigerated pizza crust
1/4 tsp. dried basil
8 (1 oz) slices fresh mozzarella cheese

Cut the chicken into bite-sized pieces. Lightly brown in 1 T. olive oil a saute pan. Remove chicken from pan.

In the same pan, heat 1 T. oil and stir in the chopped spinach. Cook until wilted, about 2-3 min. Season with red pepper flakes, salt, and pepper. Set aside.

In a small bowl, whisk together the ricotta, thyme, oregano, basil, and minced roasted garlic. Season with salt and pepper to taste.

Sprinkle a work surface with yellow cornmeal and roll out the pizza dough into a 12-inch round. Transfer to a greased baking sheet. Layer on the moz. cheese slices, then dollop the ricotta mixture all over the dough. Top with the diced chicken and wilted spinach.

Bake for 15-20 min. until the crust is golden and the cheeses are melted. Serve immediately.

Shop Hops: Supporting our Communities

Shop Hop is a familiar term to many quilters. These unique events benefit quilting and sewing businesses, shoppers, and local communities. Shop Hops can vary in size from just a few stores to statewide or regional events. They expose customers to new stores and experiences.

Many of us have a “favorite” store. A place that’s convenient, familiar, and that carries the stuff we like. But there is a whole world of new and different fabrics, notions, equipment, and personalities you’re missing out on if you don’t occasionally branch out. A Shop Hop provides quilters with a specific plan to do just that.

In a day when brick and mortar retail locations are dwindling across the nation, a Shop Hop works to promote and support quilting and sewing stores, so we can touch and feel the fabric in person. Most quilters “get this” and understand how important it is to support these places if we want them available in our communities.

Many quilters shop with friends, family, or their favorite “quiltie.” They’re not just shopping –they’re making memories as they travel around an area together. Shop Hoppers not only get to visit sewing stores, they also enjoy traveling through large and small towns, discovering places they may have never visited before.

The towns and cities that hoppers travel through also offer many treasures. Small town main streets still exist and evoke many fond memories. Shop Hoppers also support these towns as they take a break to enjoy lunch or dinner at a quaint restaurant. Someone along for the ride may visit a local antique store or boutique while hoppers are visiting a sewing store.

Hops are also about other kinds of fun. Most offer a reward, like prizes or discounts, for visiting participating shops. And of course, you get to express your creative side when you return home by making something beautiful with the items you picked up along the route.

The All Ohio Shop Hop is coming to Ohio for their third annual event during the months of August and September, 2026. It offers the opportunity to explore 80+ stores across the state. Start your adventure by picking up the All Ohio Shop Hop Magazine in mid-June at participating stores. This is a great resource to help you navigate the Shop Hop and something you can use all year long as you travel throughout the state.

Whether you hop to enjoy or support your community, we hope that you’ll mark a few days on your calendar to explore the great State of Ohio and all that its sewing industry has to offer. Pieces From My Heart

by Jan Keller

Brittle with a Bite!

Pistachios. Is there a more delicious nut?

There are pistachio groves near Alamogordo, New Mexico, and each time I'm in the area, I'm tempted to stop to buy some at the producer's retail outlets.

Recently my friend Maryann, who lives in Alamogordo, came for a weekend visit. As an extra-special treat, she brought some raw pistachios as a gift. Immediately, I had brittle on my brain!

It was about a month before I got out my heavy candy-makin' pan and assembled the necessary ingredients. I had researched via internet and found three recipes of special interest. After careful review of the ingredients and directions, I took elements from each recipe and concocted my own.

One of the recipes talked of stretching the brittle as it was barely cooling. My friend Norma stretches and pulls her peanut brittle and I know it's a highly coveted holiday treat. I love it. It was a no-brainer the stretching recipe was destined to become my primary recipe. Based on the other two recipes, I decided I would add cream of tartar and cinnamon, as well as a couple of spices to give that special bite.

In no time brittle was cooked and it was time for the stretching. My sister-in-law Connie was visiting. I recruited her help to pull sections of candy until it took on an iridescent sheen. After quickly re-buttering our fingers, we'd move on to another barely-touchable glob of the molten goo and repeat the process.

Everyone who's tasted the brittle has raved, so, from one nut to another, I'm pleased to share the recipe with you. Warning: this may be addicting!

JAN'S BRITTLE WITH A BITE

- | | |
|---------------------------|----------------------------|
| 2 cups sugar | 1 cup light Karo syrup |
| ½ cup water | 2 cups pistachios |
| ¼ teaspoon salt | ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar |
| ½ teaspoon vanilla | 1 tablespoon butter |
| ½ teaspoon cayenne pepper | ½ teaspoon chili powder |
| ½ teaspoon Tabasco sauce | 1 tablespoon baking soda |

In a large heavy pan, combine sugar, Karo syrup and water. Boil this mixture until it reaches 238 degrees on a candy thermometer. Then add pistachios, salt and cream of tartar. Continue to cook, stirring frequently. When the boiling mixture reaches 290 degrees—hard crack—remove the pan from the burner and add vanilla, butter, cayenne pepper, chili powder and Tabasco sauce. Quickly stir together then add baking soda. Mix well and, working quickly, pour out onto a couple of buttered cookie sheets. Spread with a spoon. Beginning with the outer edges, with well-buttered fingers begin to pull and stretch until it's very thin and a section breaks away. It's a good idea to have a sheet of foil where you can put the pulled pieces of candy. When well-cooled, store in airtight containers or sealed plastic bags. The pistachios in this recipe could also be substituted with peanuts, cashews, or any desired combination of nuts. Good stuff—and when pulled thin, not hard on teeth.

Microwave Caramel Corn

3 qt. popped corn
1 c. packed brown sugar
1/4 c. light corn syrup
1/2 t. baking soda
1-1/2 c. peanuts
1/2 c. butter
1/2 t. salt

Place popped corn and peanuts in a large brown paper bag. Set aside. Combine brown sugar, butter, corn syrup and salt in 2 qt. glass bowl. Microwave on high 3-4 min, stirring after each minute, until mixture comes to a boil. Microwave 2 min more. Stir in baking soda.

Pour syrup mixture over popped corn and peanuts in the bag. Close bag and shake well. Microwave on high 1-1/2 min. Shake bag well again. Microwave 1-1/2 min more. Shake bag again. Pour caramelized corn into large roasting pan. Cool and stir to separate.

Caramel Apple Pizza

- 1 tube refrigerated sugar cookie dough
- 1 8 oz cream cheese softened
- 1 c. powdered sugar
- 2 tsp vanilla
- ½ tsp. apple pie spice
- 2 Granny Smith apples
- 1/4 c. chopped pecans
- caramel sauce or caramel syrup

Preheat the oven to 350. Lightly spray a 12" round pizza pan with cooking spray. Slice the sugar cookie dough roll into 1/4" slices and lay them over the pizza pan, then press them evenly together to form the crust.

Bake the crust for 12-15 min. or until the crust is golden brown. Remove from the oven and let it cool completely.

In a medium bowl, using an electric hand mixer, beat the cream cheese, powdered sugar, vanilla extract, and apple pie spice until smooth and fluffy; about 1-2 min.

Spread the cream cheese mixture evenly over the cooled pizza crust.

Core the apples and then cut them into small chunks or thin slices. (dip the apple slices in some water and a little lime juice to keep from browning) Evenly spread the apples over top the cream cheese layer. Top with the chopped pecans and drizzle the caramel sauce over top. Chill before serving.

Cook with a Healthy Kick

By: Laura Taylor

I always wonder how I can eat healthier and still enjoy flavorful foods that are easy to make. While doing my research, I realized that a lot of our everyday seasonings and spices have more health benefits than we give them credit. A few even have a storied history behind them. With flu season around the corner, there's no better time to incorporate simple yet effective spices that will give your immune system an extra boost.

I know vampires will shudder at the thought of it, but garlic is a super food that is often overlooked, with a variety of different health benefits and healing properties. Garlic is a powerful antioxidant that can help reduce inflammation, strengthen the immune system, prevent diseases and even reduce cholesterol. Even before modern medicine, garlic played a vital role in overall well being - ancient Greek athletes incorporated garlic into their everyday diet to improve athletic performance. Now, no one is saying that adding an extra tablespoon of garlic to your chicken salad will make you a Greek Olympic athlete, but it has its benefits over time.

Ginger is another spice that packs a healthy punch. It is widely recognized for alleviating nausea, doubling the speed of digestion and reducing muscle pain. It has also been known to support immune response and health. As for its use in ancient times, ginger was valued for its warming properties, routinely used for its health benefits and even utilized as an antidote in some cases of poisoning.

An added bonus about these spices is that you can still get the benefits, whether they are bought whole, diced or even minced. When I'm in a pinch or don't feel like breaking out every kitchen tool I own, I just use the minced versions. They're just as good as fresh, with less prep time needed.

A Primitive Place Magazine

Take a Step Back in Time

Take a step back in time with A Primitive Place, where history comes alive!

Take a nostalgic journey through five beautifully decorated homes, each capturing a different style and spirit of early American life. In each issue, we feature five homes—each one filled with inspiration, history, and timeless design. Enjoy rich articles on antiques, primitive decor, and the stories that celebrate the beauty of the past.
